BEER GLOSSARY

ABV = Alcohol by volume.

B.A. rating = Beer Advocate rating.

Blonde Ale/Golden Ale = Clear, crisp and dry ale with low bitterness.

Hard Cider = Alcoholic cider made fermented apple juice. There are several varieties, including English-style (dry and fruity) and Norman-style (complex, sweeter and more effervescent). Also variants, where fruits such as pear and cherry are added to the apple base.

IPA/India Pale Ale = Heavily hopped pale ale with a higher ABV. The style was originally brewed in the early 1800s to withstand the long voyage from England to India via ship.

Pils/Pilsner/Pilsener = Moderately effervescent lager (bottom fermentation yeast). Styles include Czech (Saaz hops, golden color), German (high hop bitterness, moderate hop flavor and aroma) and Bohemian (Saaz hops, fuller bodied and slightly sweeter).

Sour = Spontaneously fermented ale. The wort is introduced to wild yeast and bacteria and those microorganisms (aka Mother Nature) handle the fermentation without the addition of brewers yeast (Saccharomyces Cerevisiae) or other commercial cultures. Complex, pleasingly sour and food friendly.
